WEEKLY REFLECTION:

“He saw and believed.” (John 20:8)

Scripture Summary

John 20:1–9 recounts the moment when Mary Magdalene discovers the empty tomb, and Peter and the beloved disciple rush to see it for themselves. Though they do not yet fully understand the resurrection, a seed of faith is planted—especially in the heart of the beloved disciple, who sees the burial cloths and believes.

WEEKLY REFLECTION (continued):

“He saw and believed.” (John 20:8)

The Dawn of New Life: Easter morning begins "while it was still dark," symbolizing the shadows of grief and confusion. Yet, this darkness gives way to discovery, hope, and resurrection. In our own lives, God often meets us in the early hours of our doubt to reveal that He is alive and working.

Running Toward the Mystery: Peter and the beloved disciple race to the tomb. Their urgency reminds us to pursue the presence of Christ with a sense of eagerness. When we encounter life's uncertainties, do we run toward God or away from Him?

Faith Without Full Understanding: Verse 9 notes that they “still did not understand from Scripture that Jesus had to rise from the dead,” and yet the beloved disciple believed. This teaches us that faith often comes before full understanding. Sometimes belief is not about seeing Jesus physically—but about trusting the signs of His presence.

God Is Already at Work: By the time the disciples arrive, the stone has already been rolled away. God had already acted. Likewise, in our lives, God is often working before we realize it. The tomb is empty not because of what we do, but because of what Christ has done.

Guiding Questions for the Week:

- What "tombs" in your life might God be calling you to look into with fresh eyes of faith?
- How can you be like the beloved disciple—believing, even when you don't have all the answers?
- In what ways can you share the joy of the Resurrection this week?

Closing Prayer:

Risen Lord, awaken in us the faith to believe even when we cannot see. As we celebrate Your victory over the grave, help us live as people of the Resurrection—brave, joyful, and full of hope. Amen.
